DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the contact piece claimed in claims 12 and 13 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. In re claim 7, the phrase "blocking device has become effective" is unclear. Specifically the term "effective" is indefinite and needs to be rephrased to be rephrased to clearly represent the function of the blocking device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 7-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Peek et al. (US 2790095).

5. In re claim 7, Peek et al., in figures 1-6, and more specifically in figure 1, discloses a device comprising an input shaft and an output shaft a magnetic coupling connecting said input shaft and said output shaft, said magnetic coupling (between members 3 and 4 connected to the shafts) having at least two magnet pairs; a blocking device (6) disposed to limit a rotatability of said output shaft in a first direction of rotation and, wherein, when said blocking device has become effective, and owing to magnetic forces emanating from said magnetic coupling, said output shaft is rotated in a second direction of rotation opposite to the first direction of rotation.

6. In re claim 8, Peek et al., in figure 1 and in the description of figure 1 in the specification, discloses that said input shaft is moved and continues to be moved when said output shaft is blocked.

7. In re claim 9, Peek et al., in figure 1 and in the description of figure 1 in the specification, discloses a transition to the second direction of rotation of said output shaft is a substantially sudden transition.

8. In re claim 10, Peek et al., in figure 1, discloses said blocking device is a first blocking device (6), and a second blocking device (6') is disposed to cause a reversal of a movement of said output shaft from the second direction of rotation to the first direction of rotation.

9. In re claim 11, the method steps described are inherent in the structure of the apparatus.

10. In re claims 12 and 13, it has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).
